

Autumn Virtual Meeting

Live sessions 25-27 November 2020

On-demand access to recorded content post event

The BGS Autumn meeting is breaking new ground and going virtual! Join us for the first virtual BGS Autumn meeting to hear about the latest scientific research and the best clinical practice in care of older people. Our ageing population is stimulating extensive NHS service redesign to deal with the challenge of caring for larger numbers of older people both in and out of hospitals. This conference will cover core areas of interest to all specialists responsible for the healthcare of older people.

Organised in association with:

Joining a virtual meeting

Participants can expect the same high-quality educational content as in a face-to-face meeting. Participants joining live will be able to engage with presenters and sponsors through interactive activities during the session, as well as through 1 to 1 and group calls and chats. Recordings of the presentations will be accessible post-event.

Meeting aims

- Further attendees' overall knowledge and understanding of current research and practice in healthcare of older people in core and difficult areas
- Improve attendees' skills in the treatment and healthcare of older people
- Inspire attendees to achieve personnel excellence in healthcare of older people
- Take away new activities and ideas to progress their workplace's services

NOCTURIA:

A Clinical Approach to Diagnosis and Effective Management

Thursday 26 November 2020
12:15–13:00

What is nocturia?

Nocturia is the frequent need to get up at night to pass urine and it carries a significant risk of sleep deprivation, falls and injuries, loss of daytime productivity and poor quality of life.

This webinar will increase your awareness and knowledge about all aspects of nocturia, including its pathophysiology, diagnosis and effective evidence-based management.

Faculty panel

Dr Sanjay Suman (Speaker)

Consultant Care of the Elderly Physician & Clinical Lead,
Medway NHS Foundation Trust, Kent

Mr Dudley Robinson (Moderator)

Consultant Urogynaecologist & Honorary Senior Lecturer,
King's College Hospital, London

GUEST LECTURERS

Dr Suresh Rattan

Editor-in-chief
Biogerontology department of molecular biology and genetics
Aarhus University

Suresh Rattan leads the Laboratory of Cellular Ageing, at the Department of Molecular Biology and Genetics, Aarhus University, Denmark. His research areas and expertise include ageing of human cells in culture, prevention, removal and repair of macromolecular damage, and applying the concept of mild stress-induced hormesis as a modulator of ageing. He is the recipient of the Lord Cohen Medal in Gerontology (2011) from the British Society for Research on Ageing, an Honorary Doctorate from the Russian Academy of Medical Sciences (2011), and is the present Chairman of the Biological Section of the European Region of the International Association of Gerontology and Geriatrics (IAGG-ER). He has published more than 220 scientific articles, and has edited/co-edited 12 books, including books for children, general public and research scientists. He is the founder and Editor-in-Chief of Biogerontology - a peer reviewed journal published by Springer. He is the discoverer of the ageing modulatory effects of kinetin and zeatin, now used in several skin care products. His personal website is: <http://www.sureshrattan.com>

Mr Mike Adamson CEO Red Cross

Mike Adamson is Chief Executive of the British Red Cross. Prior to his current appointment, Mike was Managing Director of Operations, responsible for the leadership of the British Red Cross' UK and international programmes and its advocacy work, overseeing a unified approach to all operations. He took on this role in 2010, and had previously held several other positions in the organisation between 1992 and 2003, including Head of International Programme Development, Director for the London and South-East Region, and Director of Strategy, Planning and Information Systems. In his years away from the organisation, Mike worked for the National Health Service as Director of Commissioning and Primary Care at a Primary Care Trust in Gloucestershire for three years, and spent five years as Managing Director for Services at the Royal National Institute for Deaf People (RNID - now Action on Hearing Loss). Mike is a board member of the DEC and of a regional drug and alcohol charity (Nelson Trust). He lives in Gloucestershire with his wife Lorna and two daughters Eleanor and Sophie. In his spare time he likes to run, cycle and read. Mike is also a founding member of his local film club. Mike has an MPhil in economics from Oxford University and an MBA with distinction.
